We don't know anything about site.

Judy, do you still know who the ca FUDS person is? If not, Nicole can call Dan Ward to find out. 916-255-3676. He's the ca DoD manager.

There is a listing in SEMS. The site is not identified as a Fed Facility. The NPL status is "Not a Valid Site or Incident", and, based on the schedule, it appears no work has been done by EPA at this site. There are no documents in SDMS for this site.

Envirostor (DTSC) has two documents: a list of "Potential Chemical, Biological and Radiological (CBR) Sites in California", dated 1988, and a "Findings of Fact" for Camp Anza dated 1991

Hi Steven-

Can you check SEMs to see whether we have any info on this site? John: do you know anything about this or who at DTSC might be working on it?

Thanks
Nicole

Hi Steven!

Nicole Moutoux (copied on this message) is the section chief for our Site Assessment group. She can check to see if we did a PA/SI on this already, or if we know the State's activities at the site. There is a formal process to request a PA, but it doesn't go through the RA. I believe it goes through Nicole's group. It's how we did the Tern Island PA.

Hey Rusty – you're always my go-to for figuring out who in Superfund to talk to about a site. A community member in Riverside gave me a whole stack of documents on a site in the City of Riverside, called Ag Park. Apparently this was a former military base (USArmy Camp Anza) that has been owned by the city since 1963. The site had PCB contamination (there was a sewage treatment plant built and operated by the Army in 1942, run by a private utility from 1947-1963, acquired by the City in 1963 and operated by the City until 1965). DTSC completed a two phase cleanup of the site in 2014 and the City is moving forward with a residential development on the site. The community is not convinced that the site has been cleaned up completely and there appears to be a campaign to petition EPA Region 9 to perform a preliminary assessment and ranking for the NPL ... the community is being asked to write to Jared with this request.

Who ... ye who know who's who in Superfund ... should I be talking to about this?

Thanks!
